Reference: (a) ORE 64 of 31 December 1947

1. Recently the Chief of Naval Operations has directed that no intelligence material of over one page shall be routed to his office unless the contents have been briefed.

2. Reference (a) is an example of a CIA study which will have to be briefed by ONI prior to delivery to the office of the CNO.

3. Since other senior executives might appreciate summaries of the contents of reports, it is suggested that the CIA might arrange to have reports such as reference (a) summarized on the first page. Your comments on this suggestion will be appreciated.
